ABOUT

Since its inception in 1987, Oceanco has earned worldwide reputation of building the most sophisticated superyachts to the highest standards of technological achievement. Oceanco has unique qualifications and resources to build the largest and most complex yachts to meet the market' demands. Oceanco is located in the Netherlands and its design, marketing and sales office is in Monaco. Oceanco is expanding its existing facility and operations to include state-of-the-art sheds and dry-docks for yachts up-to 140m. Oceanco has solidified its name within the superyacht industry as the premium builder of 80-90m (262-295ft) superyachts by launching eleven of the world' finest luxury yachts like the 82m ALFA NERO, 85.5m SEVEN SEAS and 91.5m EQUANIMITY, to name only a few. Several other large yachts are currently under construction and concepts and design plans are currently moving forward for a number of large custom private yachts in the 80-120m range. Continuous research and development is wrapped around the constant search for new shapes, materials and technologies. Oceanco is conscious of the environmental impact of building, owning and operating a superyacht.
